It is with considerable pleasure that I commend Business News over its plan to create a news service to promote Western Australia's innovative businesses and industries to the world.

The logic of The Bureau is clear to me; it's about creating demand for WA's goods and services in order to drive investment and jobs in our unique and diversified economy.

To grow our reputation as a can-do state and attract influential interest to WA, people beyond our shores need to know what is going on. Well-written reports by informed, experienced and unbiased business journalists published on credible media platforms will develop interest and understanding of how WA works.

And if we want to continue to diversify our economy and create the jobs of the future, this project will only help us achieve our shared goals.

I am, along with Business News, overwhelmingly positive about WA and its future, and I congratulate and support Business News in this excellent endeavour.
